The work and mission of both artists encourage the expansion of our observations of the world around us. These photographs bring to focus many experiences and sights that would often otherwise be overlooked. We hope this exhibit may do for the viewer what creating it did for the photographers: draw you into deeper seeing.

Bob Ertman

Is a member of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Annapolis for over 30 years, is a Soto Zen teacher (Sensei) in the lineage of Hakuyu Taizan Maezumi, Roshi. Bob practices with the Zen Peacemakers, bearing witness to the joys and suffering of the universe.

Photography is an important part of his practice of not looking away from whatever is present, whether horror, beauty, or both. His works in “Capture: Witnessing our World” were taken at Bearing Witness Retreats at Auschwitz-Birkenau.

Don Patterson

A lifelong lover of nature and the natural world, has been fortunate to have had opportunities to travel within the United States as well as abroad. The artist's challenge has been to try and capture in photographs the "wow" he sees all around.

Don considers himself a photographer in training, constantly learning and trying to find the composition that works best. Many of Don's works have been displayed in Gallery 333 over the years in the annual members and friends exhibition.
