

UUCA built its current home in 1969 after several families placed liens on their own homes for collateral on a bank loan to pay for initial construction.

Now over 430 members strong, we've just completed our main entrance renovation. We installed an accessible full bath, stage ramp, sprinkler system and fencing.

Funding came from individuals, a 2012 capital campaign, and a loan from our Endowment Fund.

Churches typically run capital campaigns every seven to 10 years. They raise about twice their annual income. For UUCA, that would be about ... a million dollars!

The Board of Trustees formed the CCEC (Capital Campaign Exploration Committee) to gather ideas for a major drive to expand our mission as a progressive beacon of hope here and beyond.

What is a Capital Campaign?

It's an intense fundraising effort to raise a specific amount of money in a defined period of time to build assets and capacity. It catalyzes new programs to further our mission.

Annual/Pledge drive giving supports ongoing costs such as salaries, office supplies and operational expenditures.

Legacy donations promote the health and stability of UUCA over time through bequests and other planned giving.
